Dhaka: AVIET Technic-HANSA Aviation Limited has completed an aircraft-on-ground (AOG) recovery operation for Philippines Airlines' PAL Express at Hazrat Shahjalal International Airport in Dhaka, following an emergency landing caused by a technical issue.

The Dash 8-Q400 aircraft landed at HSIA on July 17 while operating a flight from Hanoi, Vietnam, to Allahabad, India. The aircraft required an urgent windshield replacement before it could return to service.

AVIET-HANSA provided technical and logistical assistance throughout the recovery process, coordinating customs clearance, transportation, airport access, technical personnel, specialized tools and ground support equipment with PAL Express and local stakeholders.

The company said the operation involved significant logistical and operational challenges, but the required materials and technical resources were arranged to complete the windshield replacement.

After the repair and necessary checks were completed, the aircraft departed Dhaka safely on August 5, ending an operation that lasted nearly three weeks.

The company said the assignment demonstrates its ability to provide rapid AOG and technical support to international airlines operating in Bangladesh. It also described the operation as a milestone in strengthening its aviation support capabilities and developing potential partnerships with international carriers.

The successful recovery highlights the growing role of local aviation service providers in supporting foreign airlines when technical disruptions occur at Bangladeshi airports.
